◆ Michael T. Murray, N.D.

As president of Vital Communications, Inc., Dr. Michael Murray conducts seminars across the country, helping retailers and consumers learn more about natural health care alternatives. He also publishes many pieces of informative literature, including Health Counselor magazine, Phyto-Pharmica Review, and The Health Series booklets.

Dr. Murray maintains a practice in Bellevue, Washington, and teaches Therapeutic Nutrition and Botanical Medicine at Bastyr College of Natural Health Sciences in Seattle, where he received his doctorate. A leading researcher in the field of natural medicine, Dr. Murray has written "The 21st Century Herbal" (a layman's guide to botanical extracts); he also co-wrote "A Textbook of Natural Medicine" (the definitive text for health care professionals), and the "Encyclopedia of Natural Medicine" (a patient's reference guide).

◆ Kenneth R. Daub, D.C.

Dr. Ken Daub maintained a private chiropractic practice for 30 years before he began studying the circulatory system in 1976. Based on his extensive research and experience, Dr. Daub has developed MVP, an innovative, all-natural vascular rehabilitation supplement program. Dr. Daub shares his knowledge of nutrition and heart disease at public seminars and lectures throughout the United States. An active member of The Society of Non-Invasive Vascular Technology, he frequently appears on radio and television helping consumers learn how to care for the cardiovascular system the most natural way possible.

◆ Terry Lemerond

The president and founder of Enzymatic Therapy, Inc. (a national distributor of nutritional supplements and botanical extracts), Terry Lemerond has spent the past 20 years studying nutrition and natural health care alternatives in Germany, Switzerland, Italy, France, and other European countries. The state-of-the-art nutritional formulas he has developed are sold throughout the United States, Puerto Rico, parts of Canada and some foreign countries.

In 1959, Mr. Lemerond opened a health food store in Green Bay, Wisconsin, which still operates very successfully today. Mr. Lemerond also served on the board of the National Health Federation for nine years. In 1976, he worked with Clinton Miller and Senator William Proxmire of Wisconsin to protect health food industry rights and help prevent supplements from being placed on a prescription basis. Today, Mr. Lemerond still sees clients, has his own local radio show, and writes a weekly column for the local daily newspaper. He recently opened Naturean of America, a unique wholistic wellness and rehabilitation center.
